Goal and Mission
The goal and mission of the master’s program are to prepare graduates for positions as sociological researchers in charitable non-governmental organizations, business, or government. This is accomplished by providing them with the theories, findings, and methods distinctive to sociology. Some graduates choose to pursue a sociology doctorate with the hope of college teaching, others go on to law school, still others into counseling or private consulting.

Objectives
1. Graduates will master literature in one substantive area of sociology.
2. Graduates will develop an understanding of sociological theories, related findings, research design and statistics.
3. Graduates will further their professional careers by either continuing education at the doctoral level or finding employment in public service utilizing their advanced degree.

Master of Arts in Sociology

Admission Requirements
The student must apply to, and meet all criteria for, admission to the Graduate School. In addition to the general requirements of the Graduate School, the student must comply with the following departmental requirements:

- Students must submit GRE scores and score a minimum of the 40th percentile in one of the three sections of the GRE.
- Have a grade point average of 3.0 or higher (on a 4.0) for the last 60± credits taken as an undergraduate or permission of the Graduate Director.
- Include a statement of interest and career goals.
- Three letters of recommendation must accompany the application.
- Submit a writing sample.

For full admission to the graduate program in Sociology, the student must have completed the following courses or their equivalent:

- Introduction to Sociology,
- Social Theory,
- Social Statistics, and
- Social Science Research Methods.

In cases of deficiencies, students may be granted waivers, alternative courses, or Classified with Performance Requirements (w/PR) admission at the discretion of the Sociology Graduate Director.

General Requirements
SOC 5502 Proseminar in Sociology 3
SOC 5508 Statistical Analysis 3
SOC 6600 Comparative Sociological Theories 3
SOC 6603 Qualitative Methods 3
SOC 6650 Thesis 6
Sociology Electives 15
Total Credits 33

The Sociology electives may be selected from 5500- and 6600-level courses in Sociology or other graduate courses approved by the Sociology Graduate Director. If SOC 4408 Advanced Sociological Methods was taken as an undergraduate, 3 credit hours of electives will be substituted for SOC 5508 Statistical Analysis. If SOC 4402 Proseminar was taken as an undergraduate, the student is not required to take SOC 5502 at the graduate level.

Other requirements include the successful presentation and defense of a thesis proposal prior their third semester in the program, and the completion of a thesis and successful oral defense of the thesis.

For more information, please consult the Sociology Graduate Student Handbook and Sociology Graduate Director.

Interdisciplinary Specialized Area in Criminology

For the specialized area in Criminology, students need to take the 5 courses (18 credits) required fro the MA program in Sociology, and take additional 15 credits from the courses listed below to fulfill the elective requirements. Other requirements include the successful presentation and defense of a thesis proposal prior their third semester in the program, and the completion of a thesis and successful oral defense of the thesis. The specialized area is an interdisciplinary curriculum shared between the Department of Political Science and the Department of Sociology, Social Work and Criminology. Other courses appropriate to the Criminology emphasis may be offered by both departments and can be taken by the student with the permission of the advisor.

Masters of Social Work

The following credits will be required for the MSW options at ISU:

- 60 graduate credits would be required for traditional two-year program.
- 45 graduate credits (including 12 field credits) would be required for advanced standing program.

Accredited MSW programs do not require comprehensive examinations or a thesis. However, CSWE does require 900 hours of supervised field education (practicum) that is part of the curriculum. Field education hours are assigned course numbers with credits. Students would be required to contribute to the field of knowledge in the profession through completion of a research project and/or manuscript suitable for submission to a professional journal.
