Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) in Educational Leadership

The Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) in Educational Leadership is the College of Education’s highest degree awarded in recognition of academic preparation for professional practice in educational leadership. Because students enter the program with substantial knowledge, skills, abilities, and experience, the doctoral degree in Educational Leadership seeks to support the development of education professionals as scholars, researchers, and practitioners. This three-part whole provides the grounding from which all benchmarks of the student’s educational journey, from admissions to advancement to candidacy and ultimately program completion, are assessed. The doctorate in Educational Leadership does not lead to certification as a superintendent (see Educational Specialist in Educational Administration below).

As scholars, Doctors of Educational Leadership demonstrate content mastery. As researchers, Doctors of Educational Leadership demonstrate the application of content mastery through scholarly contributions reflecting the necessary dispositions and skills to successfully conduct meaningful educational research. Finally, through guided practicum experiences, Doctors of Educational Leadership demonstrate their ability to use acquired knowledge, dispositions, and skills as scholars and researchers in applied educational leadership settings.

Ed.D. with Educational Leadership Standards

The Ed.D. in Educational Leadership is aligned with two sets of standards: the Idaho State University Standards for Advanced Professionals (described in the previous section), and the Doctor of Education in Educational Leadership Standards. The Doctor of Education in Educational Leadership Standards address the knowledge, dispositions, skills, and strategies that frame successful educational leadership. These standards include: Organizational Development, Consultation, Diversity, Supervision, Managing Change, Applied Foundations, Technology, Research, Teaching and Learning Theory, and Leadership, Ethics, and Communication.

Master of Education (M.Ed.) in Educational Leadership

The Master of Education (M.Ed.) in Educational Leadership is designed to help students develop the knowledge, skills, and dispositions necessary to engage in more effective leadership practice. The curriculum in the Master of Education in Educational Leadership is designed to strengthen the student’s understanding, knowledge, and skills in Core Professional Studies and Educational Leadership as they relate to successful leadership roles in other educational settings, such as community colleges, vocational technical schools, or other education agencies. This program will not lead to certification as a P-12 principal.

Master of Education with Educational Leadership Standards

The curriculum for the Master of Education with Educational Leadership is aligned to the Idaho State University College of Education Standards for Advanced Professionals (previously described).

Educational Specialist (Ed.S.) in Education Administration

The Educational Specialist (Ed.S.) program represents advanced work in education administration leading to superintendent certification. Applicants will enter the program after completion of a master's degree in Education Administration. Completion of the Education Specialist program requires a minimum of 30 semester credit hours beyond the master's degree with an accumulated GPA of 3.5 during the specialist program. Students with a master's degree in areas other than administration may be required to take additional work equivalent to that required in the administration degree and must meet initial principal certification.

Educational Specialist with Education Administration Standards

The Educational Specialist in Education Administration curriculum is aligned with two separate but related sets of standards: The Idaho State University College of Education Standards for Advanced Professionals and the Idaho State Department of Education’s requirements for an Administrator Certificate with the Superintendent endorsement. All sets of standards are aligned.

Educational Specialist (Ed.S.) and Master of Education (M.Ed.) in School Psychology

The Educational Specialist (Ed.S.) and Master of Education (M.Ed.) in School Psychology together with a total of 64 credits is fully approved by the National Association of School Psychologists (NASP) with evidence of consistency with the NASP's professional standards for graduate preparation of school psychologists. The programs put a large focus on preparing competent practitioners under the NASP practice model and prepares students to work in an educational setting as a practicing school psychologist or to function as a platform for students wishing to later pursue a doctoral degree.

Educational Specialist and Master of Education with School Psychology Standards

The Educational Specialist and Master of Education in School Psychology training aligns with the NASP's training standards for graduate preparation of school psychologists. The standards represent a foundational guidance for the field of school psychology and outline how services are integrated to best meet the needs of students, families, and the school community.

Idaho State Department of Education Administrator Certificate with the Superintendent Endorsement

The standards address competencies determined by the State of Idaho to be necessary for effective school (district level) leadership (i.e., the superintendency). These standards include: Advanced School Finance, Grant Writing & Revenue Generation, Policy Development & School Board Relations, District-wide Support Services, Employment Practices & Negotiations, Educational Product Marketing & Community Relations, and Special Services & Federal Programs. Superintendent level certification endorsement can be a student outcome of this program.

Master of Education (M.Ed.) with Pre-K-12 Educational Administration Emphasis

The curriculum in the Master of Education (M.Ed.) with Pre-K-12 Educational Administration emphasis is designed to strengthen the student's understanding, knowledge, and skills in Core Professional Studies and Educational Administration as they relate to successful Pre-K-12 education administration. The Master of Education with Pre-K-12 Education Administration emphasis can lead to certification as a Pre-K-12 principal.

Master of Education with Pre-K-12 Educational Administration Emphasis Standards

The Master of Education in Educational Leadership with Pre-K-12 Education Administration emphasis leading to Pre-K-12 principal certification curriculum is aligned to two related sets of standards: The Idaho State University - College of Education Standards for Advanced Professional (described previously) and the Idaho Standards for School Administrators.

Idaho K-12 Principal Endorsement Certificate

Individuals who currently hold an educationally-related master’s degree can complete a sequence of courses to be eligible for an Institutional Recommendation toward the Idaho K-12 principal endorsement from the State Department of Education. This administrative certificate program includes 18 credits of coursework aligned to the Idaho Standards for the Preparation of School Principals, 3 credits of Internship (a state requirement), and 1 credit of Case Study (taken in last semester of the certificate program).

Idaho Special Education Director Endorsement Certificate

Individuals with a master’s degree in K-12 educational administration can complete a sequence of courses to be eligible for an Institutional Recommendation from the College of Education to add the Special Education Director endorsement as an administrative certificate from the State Department of Education.

Idaho State Pre-K-12 Principal Certification Standards

These standards address competencies determined by the State of Idaho to be necessary for effective school leadership (i.e., principal). Standards must be met through graduate-level course work in school administration for the preparation of school principals at an accredited college or university. These 10 standards include Mission, Vision, and Beliefs, Ethics and Professional Norms, Equity and Cultural Responsiveness, Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment, Community of Care and Support for Students, Professional Capacity of School Personnel, Professional Community for Teachers, Meaningful Engagement of Families and Community, Operations and Management, and Continuous School Improvement. Idaho principal certification can be a student outcome through this curricular/standard alignment.

Master of Education (M.Ed.) in Educational Administration with Athletic Administration Emphasis

The Master of Education (M.Ed.) in Educational Administration with Athletic Administration Emphasis combines existing coursework and current programs in Educational Administration and Athletic Administration. This emphasis will provide school districts, which typically hire assistant principals and assign them athletic administrator responsibilities, with principals who are well-qualified to assume athletic administrator duties. This emphasis will provide education specifically designed to address the needs of current and future athletic administrators at the secondary school level. Candidates can select from existing course options in Educational Administration and Athletic Administration.

Doctor of Education in Educational Leadership

Admission Requirements

Admission to the Educational Leadership doctoral program is based on a rolling-cohort model. Cohorts cycle through approximately every three years. Screening of applications for cohort admission begins April 15th of the year in which a cohort is scheduled to begin the program. Outside the cohort, applications are invited on an ongoing basis. Non-cohort applications are reviewed fall, spring, and summer. Every effort is made to support the doctoral program of study of non-cohort students.

At the time of application, the applicant must specify a single area of concentration (i.e., P-12 Education Administration, Higher Education Administration, Instructional Design and Technology). Should a student wish to change his or her area of concentration, he or she must reapply to the Graduate School for readmission to the doctoral program in Educational Leadership.

For admission to the Doctor of Education in Educational Leadership, the student must apply to and meet criteria for admission to the Graduate School. The applicant must also meet the following minimum admission requirements:

1. A master’s degree in education or a related field from a regionally accredited institution with a minimum of a 3.5 grade point average in the graduate level coursework
2. Letter of interest, stating why the applicant is interested in the Ed.D. (specify concentration)
3. A minimum score at the 40th percentile on the Miller Analogies Test (MAT) or on either the Verbal Reasoning or Analytical Writing section on the Graduate Record Examination (GRE)
4. A current resume that includes the names of two professional references who can address the academic or professional/leadership qualifications of the applicant
5. Successful completion of an interview with faculty in the proposed concentration area
6. Successful performance of a writing sample completed in conjunction with the interview

International students whose native language is not English must comply with Graduate School admissions requirements. Additional language-based course work may be required of international students whose native language is not English.

General Requirements

The Doctor of Education in Educational Leadership with emphasis in Higher Education Administration requires a minimum of 64 semester credits of course work:

- 18 credits in the doctoral core
- 27 credits in the area of emphasis, including 3 credits of electives
- 9 credits of cognate courses (5500 level and above)
- 10 dissertation credits

The Doctor of Education in Educational Leadership with emphasis in P-12 Education Administration requires a minimum of 61 credits:

- 18 credits in doctoral core
- 24 credits in the area of emphasis, including a minimum of 3 practicum credits
• 9 credits of cognate courses (5500 level and above)
• 10 dissertation credits

The Doctor of Education in Educational Leadership with emphasis in Instructional Design and Technology requires a minimum of 61 credits:
• 15 credits in doctoral core
• 27 credits in the area of emphasis, including a minimum of 6 practicum credits and 9 EDLT elective credits
• 9 credits of cognate courses (5500 level and above)
• 10 dissertation credits

The Educational Leadership program defines cognate study as a planned set of courses, 5500-level and above, outside the student’s concentration area, taken within the College of Education or outside it. Cognate study is to be determined prior to cognate course enrollment, in consultation with the student’s advisor.

Of the 61/64 semester credits required for the Ed.D. in Educational Leadership, at least 30 semester credits of course work must be taken at Idaho State University. Dissertation credits may not be transferred from another institution.

Students are required to maintain continuous enrollment of at least one semester credit of work each semester (including summers) from matriculation to completion of the program including completion of the dissertation and oral defense. Failure to maintain continuous enrollment can result in dismissal from the program.

Students must maintain a 3.2 grade point average to qualify for the Doctor of Education. Two grades of C+ or below during the entire program will result in admissions status review, with the possibility of dismissal.

Final Program of Study

Tentative programs of study may be drafted upon program entry with the help of the student’s advisor. The final program of study must be submitted with the Comprehensive Examination Notice of Intent and routed through the student’s advisor, the Department, and the Dean of the College of Education. Upon submission of the final program of study to the Dean of the Graduate School, the Dissertation Committee, including the Graduate Faculty Representative, is established and the student is advanced to candidacy.

Comprehensive Examination

The comprehensive examination is a significant aspect of the student’s total doctoral program. The written examination is normally administered during or immediately following the last semester in which the student is engaged in formal course work.

The comprehensive examination has, as its overall objective, the assessment of the student’s knowledge, understanding, and skills as they relate to the field of educational leadership. Examination guidelines are provided in the Ed.D. Handbook.

Dissertation and Oral Defense

Upon successful completion of the comprehensive examination and approval of the dissertation proposal by the student’s Dissertation Committee, the student is authorized to complete the dissertation in preparation for the final oral defense.

Required Courses

The Doctor of Education in Educational Leadership requires a minimum of 61/64 semester credits of course work. Doctoral degrees in P-12 Education Administration and Higher Education Administration require 18 credits in the doctoral core. The Ed.D. degree in Instructional Design and Technology requires 15 credits in the doctoral core. A minimum of 24 credits in the area of concentration is required for the Ed.D. in P-12 Education Administration. The Ed.D. in Higher Education Administration requires 24 credits in the area of concentration and 3 elective credits. The Ed.D. in Instructional Design and Technology requires 27 concentration area credits that include 9 credits of EDLT electives and 6 credits of practicum (EDLT 7737). Each emphasis requires 9 credits of cognate study (determined in consultation with the student’s advisor and concentration area) at the graduate level (5500 or above) and at least 10 dissertation credits. The student may select from the following areas of emphasis: P-12 Education Administration, Higher Education Administration, or Instructional Design and Technology.

Educational Specialist (Ed.S.) in School Psychology

Admission Requirements

Applicants for the Educational Specialist in School Psychology degree must meet all college and university requirements for admission and retention. The completion of the Master of Education in School Psychological Examiner Program OR an equivalent School Psychology master’s degree is a pre-requisite for acceptance into the Educational Specialist in School Psychology Program.

General Requirements

The student must complete 33 credits in School Psychology. All post-master’s degree coursework must be taken from members of the Idaho State University graduate faculty or be approved in advance by the graduate faculty. A minimum grade point average of 3.0 (B) is required overall coursework taken in the Ed.S. program. An oral examination covering the specialist paper, portfolio, and/or relevant topics is required.

Time Requirement

All requirements for the Ed.S. must be completed within a period of five years from the date of completion of the first post-master’s degree course to be applied toward the degree.

Specific Requirements: School Psychology Major

The Ed.S. in School Psychology is designed to be consistent with the minimal entry-level requirements in the field of school psychology as presented by the National Association of School Psychologists. A master’s degree as a school psychological examiner or its equivalent is required.

The Ed.S. is viewed as a practitioner’s degree and will focus on applied activities.
