Marketing majors earn a degree in Marketing which provides students with the opportunity to augment the required marketing coursework with courses in other disciplines which round out their areas of interest. These additional courses may be a combination of courses from multiple business or business-related disciplines, or can be a cohesive set of courses which earn the student a second major in another business area. Moreover, we include an applied educational component in our program so that our students have the opportunity to learn through applying the concepts studied in the classroom. College of Business 3393 internships and College of Business Core Courses do not count toward the 24 credit hour major course requirement.
