

International Admissions

Idaho State University encourages and welcomes international students to apply. We are proud of the active part taken in student activities by students from around the world. Admission to Idaho State University for international students is dependent upon credentials showing proof that the students are able to perform well in an American academic environment. The Office of International Admissions recognizes there are no such things as equivalents between curricula in any other country and the United States. Thus, foreign courses must be evaluated in terms of approximations.

Applications

The priority dates for international student admission applications are May 1 for fall semester, and August 1 for spring semester. The form is online at www.isu.edu/apply/international/ (<https://www.isu.edu/apply/international/>). The following additional items are needed:

1. Application Fee ($50, nonrefundable);
2. Documents showing English Proficiency (e.g., IELTS, TOEFL, Duolingo);
3. Official Transcripts from all universities previously attended and statements of English proficiency when applicable; an official transcript is one that is sent directly from the institution to the International Programs Office at Idaho State University;
4. Official secondary or high school transcripts if fewer than 14 transfer college credits have been earned;
5. Declaration of Financial Support for one academic year along with supporting bank documents;
6. Copy of passport picture page;
7. Students transferring from another U.S. college or university are required to have the SEVIS Transfer Release form completed and submitted to the Office of International Admissions along with a copy of the current visa, I-94 and the current I-20 or DS-2019 forms issued to them by the school from which they wish to transfer; and
8. Online Verification Form (<https://www.isu.edu/ipo/forms/verify/>).

It is critical that students submit necessary admission documents early so they may be cleared to register for classes. Those submitting application materials late cannot be assured of registration for the current semester. An official transcript is one that is sent directly from the college/university to the International Programs Office at Idaho State University. Failure to list and submit transcripts from all schools attended, or submission of inaccurate information, is considered fraud and is cause for refusal of admission or dismissal from Idaho State University.

English Proficiency

Students from other countries are required to provide evidence of a satisfactory score on one of the following standardized tests:

- TOEFL - iBT of 61 or above,
- IELTS - overall band score of 5.5 or above, or a 5.0 on each of the sub-tests,
- Duolingo - overall score of 85 or above,
- SAT - Redesigned SAT Reading Test score of 25 or above
- English score of C5 or better on the West African Examinations Council (WAEC) certificate

If the SAT was taken prior to April 2016, the SAT test score requirement is 460 on the Critical Reading score.

Exemption from the English Proficiency requirement is possible for students who:

1. are coming from countries where English is the official medium of instruction.
2. are transferring 14 or more credits from another college or university in the United States.
3. have completed their prescribed course of study at the ISU Intensive English Institute and who have the recommendation of the IEI staff.
4. can show English proficiency by completing Level 112 at any ELS program (<http://www.els.edu>).
