

National Student Exchange (NSE)

Courses

NSE 3300 National Student Exchange: 1-18 semester hours.

The National Student Exchange (NSE) is an opportunity to attend one of over 190 colleges and universities across the U.S. and Canada (including Guam, Puerto Rico, and Virgin Islands) for up to one calendar year while paying in-state tuition and fees. To be eligible to apply, students must be enrolled at Idaho State University full-time with at least a minimum 2.5 GPA in the semester prior to exchange and have at least sophomore status while on exchange. There is a nonrefundable application fee, and students pay either Idaho State University's or the host school's in-state tuition and fees, plus room, board, and transportation to and from the host campus, applying for financial aid accordingly.
